

Endocrine-Related Cancer Disclosure Policy

(Last updated October 2015)

All editors responsible for recommending or making publication decisions are requested to disclose on an annual basis any potential conflict of interest, including current or recent financial relationships with any commercial entity whose products or services may be contained in the journal content.

The following competing interests were disclosed:

Prof. Wouter de Herder –

Has received speakers fees from Ipsen, Novartis and Pfizer, and has had sponsored research by Ipsen and Novartis.

The following editors reported no competing interests:

Prof Charis Eng

Dr Robert Clarke

Dr. Paramita Ghosh

Prof. Antonio Di Cristofano

Dr Deborah Marsh

Prof. Chris J McCabe

Dr Frank Weber

Dr Kokichi Sugano

Dr Nelson Wohlk

Bioscientifica staff and freelancers working on the journal reported no conflicts of interest. Article authors' declarations are stated in each journal article. Referees must disclose any competing interests before agreeing to review any submission. For more information on the journal's ethical policy, please read the ethical guidelines.

This policy follows the recommendations of the International Committee of Medical Journals Editors (ICMJE) and the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE).